

Mr. Broadbent is a learning expert, author, and certified business coach. He walked three weeks on the Camino de Santiago in 2003 and four weeks in 2005—and became a pilgrim. As such he brings a quest for truth to his work, and he is dedicated to doing the right thing for the right reason. He is the author of four popular international books and over 80 articles. He holds a Masters degree in Adult Education.

Brooke is a former public servant manager and private sector consultant. He held various management positions in the training field. He now works as a personal and business coach, freelance author, workshop facilitator and training consultant.